Coffee grounds will build up in this location during use.

Coffee grounds will build up in the location shown during use. This will cause the water drain to become blocked. Thus causing the machine to leak instead of dripping into the drip tray. This space should be cleaned from time to time to ensure that the machine would drain correctly.